

Aris Anagnostopoulos is an assistant professor at the Department of Computer, Control, and Management Engineering, at the Sapienza University of Rome. Before joining the Sapienza University of Rome he was a postdoc at Yahoo! Research, in Santa Clara, CA. He graduated from the Computer Engineering and Informatics Department of the University of Patras and afterwards he obtained a Ph.D. degree in Computer Science from Brown University.

For more information visit <http://aris.me>